For the purpose of "El Sistema in Istria" project, which was approved and funded by the European Union in the framework of the programme „Fostering Innovative Forms of Philanthropy in Local Communities to Support Sustainability of Civil Society“, we are looking for

El Sistema experts

SO DO – El Sistema Croatia has started it's first nucleus two years ago in Zagreb - the capital of Croatia. With the financial support of European Union we have the possibility to extend our work to Istria – Croatian region known for its specific geographical position, natural beauties and diversities and its outstanding touristic significance.

We have started rehearsals two months ago with teachers selected from the region. We work with children of different age groups and knowledge level, mostly those that have several years of music education in public music schools or local music associations. The aim is to have a youth symphonic orchestra, although we don't have all instruments at the moment, but we should be able to give a support and, together with a local community, influence to the development of young musicians in Istrian region.

In order to support our teachers in implementing El Sistema methodology we are looking for colleagues from European El Sistema inspired programmes who are experienced and able to share their knowledge and know-how, especially in the field of:

1. the power of music and how can we use it to change children's lives (the emphasis can also be on how to approach and reach children that have no family support in making the most of their lives, potential drug abuse, internet addiction);
2. teaching methods (basic methods, including peer teaching and how to encourage it, how to get a short-term result, how to monitor individual progress);
3. working with a group (children of different age groups, different family habits or religious beliefs – how to communicate, how to support dialog, tolerance, understanding and acceptance of difference);
4. how to set up a nucleus (structure, working methods, finding funds, dealing with parents, involving community);
5. developing conducting skills following the El Sistema specific methodology.

Workshops should be in English language, last one or two days during weekends, from February to the end of May. Exact dates will be agreed later. Travel expenses and 200€ per contract are estimated in the project.
